HOSPITAL WORK

New Porch Replaces Decayed Structure

Improvements are still being pursued at the county hospital. A new porch is now in course of construction, the old one was completely rotted away. Zeph Dal Porto has the contract, and is giving the county a job that will reflect credit upon him. Superintendent Burke faces many needed improvements. The building was, as the grand jury reported, in a most deplorable condition. Drainage pipes, supply pipes, decayed timbers from roof to cellar were allowed to go unrepaired, and the building was fast becoming disgrace to the county.

RESCUES A LIFE

Mine Hero Saves Comrade from Death

Paul Veramenta, residing with his uncle, Paul Veramento in South Jackson, received severe injuries while at work in the Zeila mine that would have proved fatal had it not been for the presence of mind and hasty action of a fellow worker. The young miner, who is not much more than 19 years old, was ordered to load the skip with old timbers, etc. at the 1500 level, and then to send the skip to the surface by ringing 1 bell. As the unfortunate man explains it, he desired the skip to lower a bit further, and gave what he thought was the correct bell. The skip started up, and the miner attempted to jump off the top of the filled skip, into the 1500 level. As he jumped from the moving bucket he was caught between the skip and the timbers and badly squeezed. His cry was heard by Lazar Radonja, who in an instant reached out and grabbed the victim as the skip was passing him, and when released from his dangerous position, Raonja pulled him into the level, and thereby saved him from a plunge of 160 feet to the sump of the shaft. The injured man was hastily sent to the surface and a team was sent from a local livery that carried the miner to the home of his uncle. Dr. Endicott is attending the unfortunate man and reports no bones are broken.

SCHOLARS PASS

High Average is Made by Pupils for Term Past

The following figures show the vast importance of having a high school in Amador county. Jackson has 29 pupils who graduated from the Grammar school this season, who expressed their intentions of attending a high school, and 4 who said they were unable to do so. Sutter Creek has 11 who wish to attend a high school, and 6 who are unable to do so. Plymouth has 12 who desire to go to high school, and 5 who cannot attend. Volcano's students 3 to 1 stated they had no intention to attend any high school, and this is mainly by reason of the heavy expense incurred in so doing. Ione has 13 who intend to finish high school and only 1 who does not intend to do so. This district stands out then to prove the assertion, that a high school located near the county seat would get a great mass of pupils who are otherwise lost.

Gubbins, a contractor from Kennedy Flat, is in charge of the construction, and has a force of men at work. They expect to have the building completed in about 3 weeks.

LIMEROCK DOES FINE

Directors of New Company Laud Stock at Meeting

At a meeting of the directors of the Amador Limerock Company held last Saturday important business was transacted, every director being present. The options held by W. H. Greenhalgh and George W. Brown on limestone land belonging to Messrs Gebhardt, Sibole and Henderson in Mount Echo district, were transferred to the Limerock company for the sum of $7500, paid in stock of the corporation. Ten per cent of the capital stock subscribed was paid by those present, amounting to over $6000 in cash. With this in the treasury it is proposed to pay the first instalment of the purchase price, amounting to over $1600, which falls due early next month. Deeds for the lands included in the option will be placed in escrow this week, to be delivered to the company upon the final payment of the agreed price. As soon as these matters are

STOCK VICTIMS

Wireless Fraud Catches Many In Jackson

There are quite a number of victims of the United Wireless Telegraph fraud in Jackson and other parts of the county. The amounts invested ranged from $100 to $500. They were led to put their savings into this scheme by the representations of agents engaged in the selling of stock, and these agents were in most cases victims of fraudulent misrepresentations on the part of the high-ups of the company. They no doubt believed they were selling stock in a company that bade fair to rival the Bell telephone and similar corporations, which have made many persons wealthy by the investment of a few hundred dollars therein. The conditions of the wireless telegraph business aided the schemers. It was a new enterprise comparatively, with almost unlimited possibilities before it, and a vast field

A MODERN ADAM

Stinson Veils Threats at Defenseless Women

When Richard Webb said in his paper that his was the only office in Amador county in which a full-sheet two-color poster could be printed, he deliberately and maliciously lied. That is what was said last week, and here repeat.—Record.

The worst form of lying is to attribute a statement to another that was never made, and then proceed to abuse the individual for having said it. This is the dernier resort of the unscrupulous when routed in open and above-board discussion. It is the spirit of ambushed assailant. In journalism it is called "conjuring up an enemy for the satisfaction of knocking him down. That seems to be the only role the Record man is capable of playing to advantage. It is an all-sufficient answer to the above to say that the Ledger has never made any such statement as is therein attributed to it.

Well Known Character Passes to His Rest

Gormey Gregorio, a character well known to many Jackson residents, died at the county hospital, and was laid to his final resting place last Monday afternoon at 4 p. m. The services were conducted by Father Laffan. Gregorio was a native of Venezuela. He migrated to California in 1849 seeking gold. As a profession he listed himself to a musician, and his guitar furnished much amusement to those who cared to listen to his old time tunes.

Foot Badly Smashed

John Garbarino had his left foot smashed last night, by a heavy log falling upon it. Garbarino is employed in the Kennedy mine, and his injury will incapacitate him from work for some time. Dr. Gall treated the unfortunate man.

POORBALLGAME

Local Team Makes Bad Show with Plymouth

Sunday's exhibition at the local ball park, between Jackson and Plymouth, was too one-sided to be enjoyed. Plymouth was in no stage of the game in danger of defeat, while Jackson was completely held at the mercy of the visitors' pitcher, Johnny Burke, who threw a ball that only Jackson's best sluggers could find.

Plymouth had a batting streak on that would make any local pitcher sick, and hit ball after ball into outfield. A. Prichard, catcher for the Plymouth nine, put a ball past Ardito into center field that gave him an easy home run, in the sixth inning. For this play he was presented with a box of Elko cigars by M. P. Silva, the local dealer. Easton, the Plymouth second baseman, played a strong game, bringing in 4 runs, and having 4 put outs to his credit. The Plymouth nine are managed by Earl Ninnis, proprietor of the Plymouth livery stable and captained by A. Prichard, the catcher for his own team.

Very little can be said for Jackson's last game, appreciating the fact that the players receive no salary for the strenuous parts they play in giving Jackson baseball amusement; we are compelled to say that lack of proper management is surely pulling the

KENNEDY WINS

Ball Team Easily Defeats Amador City Nine

The baseball game between Kennedy and Amador teams proved an easy proposition for the miners, who won by a score of 21 to 4.

Kennedy's team is very well managed, and the boys have played fine ball all season. Their new suits arrived too late to be used in their game with Amador, but will be worn next Sunday in their game with the Zeila. Jos. Raggio, second baseman on the Kennedy team made a grandstand play in a long run to bring down a flyball, thereby putting a man out.

JOHNSON'S PECULIAR STAND.

Hiram Johnson, candidate of the Lincoln-Roosevelt faction for the republican nomination for governor, assumes a very illogical position from a party standpoint. All the other aspirants for this office have signified their intention of supporting the party nominee as determined by the voters at the primary election. This is the only straight and honorable course, and is in accordance with time-honored custom. But Johnson refuses to line up with his fellow candidates on this proposition. He will not pledge himself beforehand to support the party nominee. He has always been a free-lance in politics anyway, and is resolved to continue in the same role notwithstanding he is touring the state and making frantic appeals for republican votes as the representative of simon-pure republicanism. This will strike the average party man as extraordinary and inconsistent. The foundation of party organization is submission to the will of the majority. In the convention system it was customary to pledge a candidate to the support of the ticket, whether he himself was nominated or not. The direct primary law does not impair party loyalty; if anything it makes it more imperative. He is required under the new law, before starting out his nomination petitions, to file a sworn statement to the effect that he is affiliated with the party organization; that he voted for a majority of its candidates at the last election, and intends doing the same at the forthcoming election. But Johnson does not wish this pledge to tie him down on the head of the ticket in case one of his republican rivals happens to be selected as the standard-bearer. Reading between the lines, this means that Johnson is not likely to vote for a republican governor unless he himself gets away with the plum at the primaries. This kind of platform is not much of a recommendation to party voters. Johnson lacks the essential elements of a party candidate. He belongs in the ranks of the independents, and to be consistent ought to be seeking a place on the ballot as an independent candidate. His chance of winning the republican nomination rests upon there being so many candidates of that party in the field. In a straight-out contest between the Lincoln-Roosevelt wing and those out of sympathy—not with their principles but with their methods—the insurgents would be hopelessly outvoted. But a plurality votes nominates, and therein lies the hope of the Johnson faction. Even with these conditions we do not believe his nomination is at all probable.

Governor Gillett's decisive stand not to permit the Jefferies-Johnson fight to take place in California commands the approval of right-thinking people. California has suffered in a moral sense in public estimation from the number of prize fights which have been pulled off within her territory. The cohorts of pugilism have come to look upon this state as a sure asylum for their operations. Gillett has had the courage to stop the business, when a fistie battle of world-wide interest was scheduled to take place. Naturally business men in San Francisco are chagrined over the governor's action. They were calculating upon a big boost in business incident to influx of thousands of sports to witness the great slugging match. But their temporary disappointment is not worth considering when weighed against the reputation of the city and state.

The republican state central committee has issued a call for a state convention to be held in September. The basis of representation is one delegate for each 500 votes or majority fraction cast for the party at the last presidential election. This gives Amador two delegates. Heretofore the apportionment has been one delegate for every 250 votes. As the only purpose of a state convention is to formulate a party platform and select a new state committee, there is not likely to be much of a scramble for the honor of going to the state convention. It seems bordering on the ridiculous, and is certainly contrary to party usage, to nominate candidates first, and fix up a platform for them to stand upon afterwards. This reversal of the usual order of things may cause a heap of trouble hereafter. The two delegates allotted to Amador must be elected at a county convention to be called not later than two weeks after the August primary, at which primary delegates to the county convention must be chosen.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

A Plague from Sand Flies—A Pigment Wanted—Fiber-Reinforced Rubber—Getting the Burglar's Measure—A Paddle-Wheel Brake—Science Heading off Criminals—A Neglected Tuber—Fire-Glow Recording—Glass-Coated Ships—New Fireless Cooking.

Pellagra, which has given much alarm in the United States, is a great scourge in south-eastern Europe, and a serious disorder in the West Indies, Egypt and elsewhere. Among its first symptoms is usually a kind of sunburn of face, chest and hands. This is followed by skin rash, catarrh of stomach and intestines, feverishness, lassitude and weakness, and as the trouble recurs in spring and autumn year after year, the weakness increases, and often leads to lunacy and death. The disease has been generally attributed to eating damaged Indian corn. Believing it to be infectious, Dr J. J. Wolfe, of Durham, N. C., has been lately seeking its organism in pellagrous blood and has obtained some spherical bacteria, without certain evidence that they are the cause of the disease. He has found a similar organism in a culture from damaged Indian corn. On the other hand, Dr L. W. Sambon, a British investigator, has long doubted the accepted theory, and in a recent visit to Italy with a Pellagra investigation committee, he convinced himself definitely that Indian corn is not a cause of pellagra. The evidence tended to show that the disease is due to a parasite conveyed by the simulum reptans, a kind of sandfly breeding on stones along the streams of pellagrous countries.

The yellow color of balloons has resulted from necessity, not chance or idle fancy. Lieut-Col. Espitalier, a French aeronaut, explains that the textile fabric of the balloon is made impermeable by a layer of caoutchouc, and that this, even when vulcanized, is rapidly disintegrated by violet or ultra-violet light, so that it must be protected by a yellow pigment to absorb the harmful rays. A new yellow pigment is much wanted, however, as neither the chromate of lead used in France nor the anilin dye of Germany is satisfactory.

A process for combining pure rubber with vegetable fiber so that the latter penetrates the material in minute threads in all directions is claimed by a London tire company. The product is remarkably tough and resistant to pressure and tensile strain.

Bertillon's dynamometer, the new apparatus added to the equipment of the French police by the famous chief of the anthropometric service, is expected to interpret the marks of the burglar's jimmy, and makes it possible to show whether a forcible entrance saw made by a man, woman, child, or several persons. A strong upright steel frame has a horizontal sliding plate as a base, with a steel plate sliding in vertical grooves for the top. The spring of the top plate is connected to a dynamometer capable of registering vertical effort up to one ton, and a smaller dynamometer records the horizontal pressure on the base plate. Tests are made by measuring the effort necessary to reproduce on a suitable board or other material the marks found on doors or furniture. Vertical or pressure effort is always greater than horizontal effort, and a lever 20 inches long gave a vertical pressure of 300 pounds simultaneously with a horizontal traction of 330 pounds. On a hard walnut plank, a strong man can develop a pressure of 1500 pounds. Point impressions are most serviceable in identifying the tool used by a burglar, and the tool indicated is employed in investigating the opening of a window, drawer, desk, etc.

The resistance of water to a paddle-wheel is utilized in a novel French brake for motor cars. A bevel-wheel is loosely mounted on a shaft between the engine and the gear-box, and can be clutched to the shaft as desired. The bevel-wheel meshes with a pinion having attached a fan or paddle-wheel in a small water tank. On using the brake, the paddle is set in motion, and the resistance of the water exerts a braking effect that is considerable at high speeds, decreasing with lower rates.

The electric automatic typewriter of the Berlin police has added to the strenuousness of the burglar's profession. By means of this instrument, a robbery at one station can be followed up within two or three minutes by the printing and posting up at all stations in the city and suburbs of notices describing the thieves or giving such information as may be available.

The humble ground nut is at last attracting attention as a promising food product. For ages it has been a great delicacy to children and pigs, and it is really an excellent food, of good flavor. The new radiometer of R. H. Smith, an English physicist, is designed to measure the radiation falling on and absorbed by a dull black rough surface. An unbroken flat surface is formed by a coil of more than 50 feet of small square copper tube, extremely thin, and the radiant energy in the form of heat raises the temperature of water flowing slowly through this tube. The absorbing surface is very large—one square foot in area. The water is kept flowing by gravity at a uniform rate during each test, and the quantity collected is accurately weighed every five minutes, thermometers graduated to one-tenth degree centigrade, or one-fifth degree Fahrenheit, being used to determine the temperature. In testing open fires and other house heating arrangements, the only use made of the instrument so far, from three eighths to three quarters of a pound of water per minute was heated from 6 to 10 degrees F. The accuracy is very great, practically all of the heat received being collected in the water, and so sensitive is the instrument that on adding a two-inch cube of fresh coal to a large open fire a perceptible increase in the indicated radiation was noted in one minute.

Glass-plating is the novel method by which two English inventors hope to prevent the fouling of ships' hulls, even in tropical waters. The glass, in sections about six inches square, is applied direct to the bare metal with a special cement of wood pulp, resin and linseed oil, and a layer of this an eighth of an inch thick not only holds the glass very firmly but compensates for the difference of expansion between the metal and the glass. Painting is unnecessary. The glass is claimed to make it impossible for any growths to secure a hold, and it remains firmly adherent even when cracked with a hammer.

In a combination of fireless crooker and electric stove, electric current is used to give the first heating and start the cooking, and the hot food completes the process on standing. The holding dishes are of aluminum placed one on top of another, the electric stove is beneath, and a snugly-fitting insulating hood covers all. The process is claimed to be safe and effective. Little electricity is necessary, and meals can be prepared at less than the ordinary cost.

Bad Accident

One of Al. Dufrene's freight teams met with a terrible mishap on the road near Amador Thursday. The brake got caught somehow and could not be worked while going down a hill, and the wagon was forced on to the horses before they could get out of the way. The impact threw five of the eight off their feet into a pile, cutting and bruising them badly. It required some time to get them out and on their feet again, and probably some are totally ruined, though none were killed outright.—ECHO.

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY
The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.
To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

BLOOD TELLS

Good blood tells, they say, and bad blood certainly does. Poor or disordered blood tells its own story in lowered vitality loss of energy, in skin eruptions, in rheumatic pains and in a pallid or sallow appearance of the complexion. This is the season of the year when the blood is most apt to be disordered. Take

Ruhser's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla

It purifies and enriches the blood. It cures boils, pimples and other skin troubles. It expels rheumatic poison from the system. It builds up strength and energy.

Peter Piccardo's business continues to thrive. He sold several chain harnesses this week, and disposed of the beautiful floral saddle which adorned his windows. Keep Jackson's money in Jackson, and give the storekeepers a chance to improve.

for the expenditure of all moneys received from the sale of stock. It was easy to deceive investors under these circumstances. The effect of this smash-up will be to make it very difficult for any agents to do much business in this section hereafter in the way of inducing people to invest, no matter how meritorious their projects may seem. The only safe course is to steer clear of all agents with big money-making adventures in tow. There are plenty of reasonably safe ventures of investments, without reaching out after such as rest upon the recommendations of strangers.

settled, work will be commenced on the ground, strip the formation, and prospect the same with a view of ascertaining the quality and probable quantity of rock. Subsequent action will depend largely upon the results of this exploration work. Little doubt is entertained that the rock is both in quantity and quality, but naturally the company wish to ascertain this beyond a reasonable doubt, before proceeding to development work on a large scale.

This new enterprise is big with promise. The limerock so far as tested is of remarkable purity, hardly equalled and certainly not excelled elsewhere in the state. It is pronounced suitable for limemaking, cement and sugar refining purposes.

For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. It is the surest cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C., R. F. team to pieces, and discouraging the more able players from doing their best. Cromer might have been held if proper conditions had existed, and Merkel was worth keeping on the line up. Dick Fortner was missed, and the team that played Sunday's game were handicapped because of the lack of team work. Love did his share, bringing in 2 runs and getting several hits. Myers is not treated fairly by many in the crowd, and it will only be a short time before he quits, he is a good fielder, and a very valuable player, and his batting and fielding are hard to beat. Skelly is a reliable man, and a valuable player to the team. He is in the game from the first to the 9th inning with clean fast team work, and bats hard, but the weak points in the team, although they stand out with great force, are overlooked by those in authority for some reason, and the crowd, as a result, is compelled to witness a game such as was played last Sunday, with a 19 to 10 score.

A Modern Adam

What we did say was that the sample poster loaned to the ladies' committee could not be duplicated in size and other respects by any other office in the county. Now if our amiable brother wants to make issue on that, let him submit his production for comparison with the Ledger's sample to any fair-minded judge. Now, it's put up or shut up.

Referring to the article from the ladies' committee which we published last week, the Record this week publishes the following dainty morsel. We hope we will not be compelled to further pursue this subject in our own defense, but shall certainly do so if the occasion demands.

That is out-Adaming Adam. After shoulding the blame upon the women, he now goes one better by indulging in a veiled threat. Isn't that about the limit.

News of Interest from

Last Thursday, deputy sheriff L. J. Dormody verified a complaint charging Ira R. Allen with the murder of Luigi Paolo Coscia, who was found dead near his home in the neighborhood of Mt. Aukum two weeks ago. Allen was arraigned before Justice Spencer at 3 o'clock Thursday, and, on motion of the defendant the preliminary examination was set for Saturday, June 25th, at 10 o'clock a. m. The defendant has retained C. E. Peters to defend him.—Mt. Democrat.

John Doyle has brought suit against the Diamond & Caldor R. R. Co. for $10,000 damages for loss and crippling of his right hand by being run over by one of the Co's cars, about March 18th. Doyle claims that negligence of a fellow employee was the cause of his injury. Clarke Howard and C. E. Peters have been retained as attorneys for plaintiff.—Mt. Democrat.

There was quite a serious case of ptomaine poisoning at Calaveritas one day this week. It appears that Wednesday evening, ice cream was served at Costa's of which quite a number partook without any bad results. But the next morning young Dante Bacigaluppi ate some of the cream that had been left standing in the freezer over night. He was soon afterwards seized with violent pains, and all the symptoms of ptomaine poison. Dr. Cooper of Angels was summoned, and after a time pulled the patient out all right.—Prospect.

The Ione Copper mine has leased the Laming ditch and will pipe the water to a point not far from the mine, but which is about twenty feet below the mine ditch; from there it will be raised to the proper level by pumping.—Echo.

Mrs Geo. Mack has a curiosity. A pair of linnets built a nest in a grape vine at her home and when the eggs were laid in it she took them away and substituted some canary eggs. Strange to say, the linnets saw no difference, but hatched out the canaries and are now caring for them with as much joy as if their own offspring.—Echo.

While drifting on the 200 level at the Ione Copper mine last week the original lode was found, and the prospects are very fine.—Echo.

It has been a long time since a residence in Ione was burglarized, but that feat was accomplished Thursday night when thieves removed a screen from a window in Hiram Heffren's residence and obtained an entrance to his room, abstracting therefrom $34 of the coin of their realm. There is no clue to the burglar.—Echo.

About 9 o'clock last Sunday morning the transformer house at the App mine was discovered ablaze, and it required the combined force about the premises to confine the fire to the building in which it started. For a time it seemed that the fire would spread to adjacent buildings, but this was averted by hard work. The transformer house was entirely consumed, entailing a loss of $2500, partly protected by insurance. The origin of the fire is attributed to live wires becoming crossed in some manner. Pending the building and installation of new equipment the mill cannot be operated, and the loss on this account will be greater than that caused by the fire.—Democrat.

There are seventeen young ladies and gentlemen taking the teachers' examination before the El Dorado county board of education this week. The feature of the class of applicants aside from its size is the number of young men who show an inclination to turn their attention to teaching as a profession.—Nugget.

Placerville is the proud possessor of one of the far famed Chinese Sleeve dogs, from the royal kennels of Pekin, which only members of the royal family are allowed to possess in the Flowery Kingdom. During the Boxer troubles, when the allied armies marched to Pekin, George Englehardt secured this prize dog and has presented it to a young lady of this city, who prizes it very highly, and never tires showing it to admiring friends. It isn't much of a dog for size, but certainly shows many points of its royal breeding.—Nugget.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED

Some Jackson People Have Learned to Get Rid of Both

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong healthy kidneys.

T. J. Seymour, 51 Pitt street, Jackson, Cal., says: "Over twenty years ago I was injured and at that time my kidneys were affected. My back grew weak and ached a great deal, and the kidney secretions annoyed me by their irregularity in passage. These difficulties clung to me until I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the City Pharmacy. Since taking this remedy, I have been free from kidney complaint and have enjoyed much better health. In 1907 a member of my family gave a public statement, telling of my experience and at this time, I am pleased to corroborate all that was then said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Harry Jones killed a rattlesnake on his ranch near town last Friday. The reptile had seven rattles and a button.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best

For Supervisor.

L. H. Cook was down from the mountains on Monday, and his card for the republican nomination for supervisor of district three appears in this issue. He has been appointed by the governor to fill the supervisorship of that district between now and the election, and is anxious to succeed himself. His petition for appointment was very generously signed, showing that he is popular in his district. We have no doubt he will make good as supervisor between now and election, and the people of that section will do well to keep him in office for the ensuing term. He is a prominent business man of that township, possessing good judgment and straightforward in all his dealings.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Grand Ball Largely Attended.
A grand ball was given at Love's hall last Saturday night, under the auspices of the Jackson Booster's Club, and proved a complete succes. The boosters are a crowd of Jackson's younger people who are trying to develop stronger social relations between Jackson and other towns surrounding the county seat. Many carriages from Sutter Creek and Mokelumne Hill were registered at the livery stables, and quite a few came up from Ione. The music was furnished by Potter & Springer's orchestra of Lodi, and the hall was filled with dancers old and young.
Kept the King at Home
"For the past year we have kept the king of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," writes Paul Mathulka, of Buafflo, N. Y. Easy, but sure remedy for all stomach, liver and kindrev troubles. Only 25 cents at Soagnoli's drug store.

A New Scheme
Two gold prospectors have completed a plant along the Jackson creek on property belonging to Harry Jones' ranch, and started grinding up grass roots and soil dug from the sides of the creek, in an arastra consisting of a cement basin, with a large revolving wheel, to which is attached heavy rocks. As the wheel revolves, the rocks are drawn over the soil which is shoveled into arastra, thereby grinding it to a mush. A stream of water continually runs into the basin, which has an overflow that carries away floating mass. The gold settles to the bottom of the basin, and is cleaned up

Grand Ball Largely Attended.
A shooting exhibition was held at Zeila park directly after the ball game Saturday last, and proved a very interesting exhibition. Captain's George E. Bartlett, representing Peters Cartridge Company of San Francisco, did the shooting and proved himself an elegant marksman as well as a clever stock demonstrator.
Good Shooting by Captain Bartlett.
The captain shot brick to pieces as they were tossed into the air, put holes through pieces of steel about 2 inches square and ¼ inch thick, and a large number of other remarkable feats.
Bartlett was deputy United States marshal many years ago, and as an early frontiersman, he learned the art of shooting that makes him popular today.
The steel targets which were punctured while in the air are on exhibition at Vela & Piccardo sporting goods store, Main street, Jackson.

Newman Mine
Showing Fine

The Newman mine, at West Point owned by the Levaggi Estate Co., is showing up in fine shape. The tunnel that is being run into the mountain will attain a depth from the surface of about 800 feet, when the present contract is finished. It is the intention of superintendent Esola to still drive the tunnel further ahead. The vein in the face of the tunnel is about 3 to 4 feet in width and showing good indications of pay ore. The stopes of this mine look fine, and are being worked right along. There is about 500 tons of rock ready for the mill at the mine, also about 80 tons of fine high grade galena sulphureted ore which the owners intend to be sent to the smelters. There is a fine 10-stamp battery mill on the mine which will be kept running on the ore already stoped for some months.—Citizen.

Another Jackson
Letter of Praise

Dear Editor. I am sending you another letter:
PALMER'S STUDIO.
I purposely came to your town to have my picture taken. It was always my plan to have them taken for years, but I put it off from time to time until now I wish I had something to remind me of the days gone by, before I became so wrinkled and worn. I promised so many of them, so often, that I really forget all I owe. Palmer's studio, 19 Main street, is about the only place in the county where good portraits can be secured. I have seen much of his work and know it to be good.

BASSO'S HARNESS SHOP
An old and tried harness man can always be relied upon, and A. Basso has both virtues, he has handled leather more than 50 years, and many of his first harnesses are still in use. He does a general boot and shoe repairing trade, and once tried, always patronized, seems to be his fortune. My boots carry a pair of half soles that he put on many months ago, and I brought him over several other pairs to-day for repairs.

E. MARRE BROS.
One of the best established wholesale dealers and jobbers of imported and domestic wines and cigars, is the firm of E. Marre & Bros, Jackson. The stock they don't carry is a class that nobody wants, and the trade they have is one secured by honest dealing, and a supply of the best distilled whiskies and brewed beers on the market. They are progressive, obliging and a valuable helps to Jackson's progressiveness. I always go there for the port wines that I send to my sick cousin. They are recommended by the physician for strength, and I feel satisfied that my wine is pure when I buy it here.

CITY MEAT MARKET
I wanted to take some fresh meat along home, so I stopped into the City Meat Market, managed by George L. Thomas & Co. We eat so much smoked meat that it becomes quite tiresome and a nice juicy steak is about as good a treat as I could care to take along home. We sell all our cattle to Thomas, and our stock receives the best attention, as we have them examined regular so as to prevent any chances of a sick cow or steer. Thomas appreciates our fairness by giving us extra weight whenever we come to town, but of course don't you expect it. It would break him, as the price of cattle is very high this season.

GARBARINI BROS. LUMBER.
We had to send below for lumber, because we did not know of any lumber company before we subscribed for the Ledger, but we are better informed now. The Amador Lumber Company carries a stock of lumber sufficient to build an average country town. More than 300,000 feet of lumber continually carried in stock, and the manager, a young gentleman named Steele, has his yards strictly in the best of condition. He has a branch office established in Jackson, represented by Garbarini Bros, located on Water street.

Printed Envelopes

The appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1911, contains the following clause in regard to the printing of envelopes with the address of firms or individual's name thereon, a practice which has been going on for over forty years, to the detriment of printing offices throughout the country, and with no corresponding benefit to the government.

For manufacture of stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers, one million four hundred thousand dollars: Provided, that no part of the foregoing sum shall be used to print or have printed, or sell or offer to sell any stamped envelope bearing upon it a printed direction giving the name of any individual, firm or company, or any number of any post-office box or drawer, or any street number or the name of any building to which it shall be returned if uncalled for or undelivered: Provided further, that this shall not apply to those envelopes printed with a return card left blank as to name, address, box, drawer, street number, or building, and which only give the name of the town or city, with the state, district, or territory: And provided further, that this provision shall in no way interfere with or prevent the carrying out of any existing contract heretofore entered into by the government relative to the printing and manufacture of envelopes.

"It cured me, or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.
